A Video Message from Bishop Noonan and Superintendent Henry Fortier

Bishop John Noonan and Superintendent of Catholic Schools Henry Fortier share a message of hope, love and trust in God. Speaking on the theme of this school year, “My Soul Proclaims the Goodness of the Lord,” they showcase the good works of our students in service to others, and the faith and resiliency of our school communities during the COVID-19 pandemic. We may have been socially distanced, but we remained emotionally and spiritually connected. Lastly, they thank those who made this school year such a success — our principals, parents, students and benefactors.

Accredited and State-Certified

All Catholic schools in the Diocese of Orlando are accredited by the Florida Catholic Conference and meet or exceed all state standards. Catholic high schools are also accredited through Cognia. To further promote our Catholic schools' mission, all schools are evaluated using the National Standards and Benchmarks for Effective Catholic Elementary and Secondary Schools.

Lastly, 100% of eligible faculty are certified by the State of Florida.

Our Mission

Catholic schools in the Diocese of Orlando proclaim the Gospel message within an academic environment of excellence that challenges students to be creative and critical thinkers who integrate faith, moral leadership and compassionate service in order to create a more just and humane world.

Major service projects conducted by our students in all grade levels – preschool, elementary school, middle school, and high schools. Students participate in a multitude of service projects, serving their parishes, schools, communities, and the Diocese of San Juan de la Maguana, our sister diocese in the Dominican Republic.

The faith-centered environment of our Catholic schools is at the heart of what sets us apart from other educational institutions. Through a solid religious curriculum, taught by certified teachers with catechist training and a focus on service to others, our students gain a deep understanding of Christ and our Catholic faith. They grow in their love and knowledge of Christ through daily prayer, as well as in the regular celebration of Mass and seasonal liturgical prayer services and events.

Catholic schools help students discover their God-given gifts and talents and teach them to use their gifts in service to others. It is in sharing our gifts with others that we truly show gratitude to God.

Research shows that Catholic school graduates are more committed to service as adults. Three Bishop Moore Catholic High School Class of 2019 graduates exemplify this notion. Instead of heading off to college or the military, James Nguyen, Jacob Carbonelle and Daniel Gomez, embarked on a mission to improve the lives of the children and adults of the Thiên Bình Orphanage, a community located on the outskirts of Ho Chi Min City in Vietnam and run by a group of 21 religious sisters. The three young men spent up to a year working the land, demolishing and rebuilding buildings damaged by storms, teaching children English, and maintaining the compound and gardens.

Our faculty and administrators lead by example. Every year, educators travel to our sister diocese in the Dominican Republic either leading a group of high school missionaries or serving on education missions. While the pandemic thwarted late year missions, a few educators, such as Nathan Nadeau, principal at St. Charles Borromeo Catholic School, were able to make mission trips earlier in the year. Nadeau made his first trip to the Dominican Republic in Summer 2019, and assisted in getting two SMARTBoards for schools in Los Frios, through the goodwill of a donor and in sharing a portion of the school's fundraising efforts.

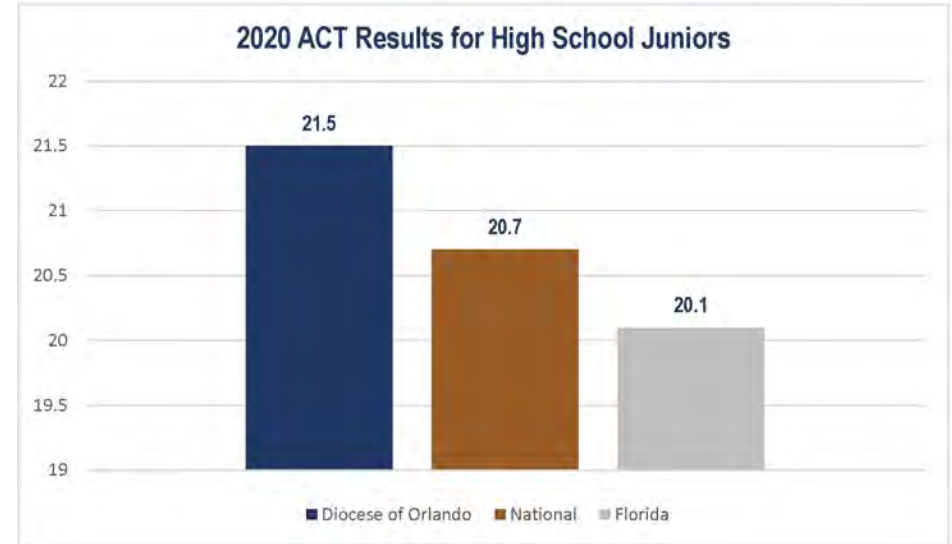

Every year, the Office of Catholic Schools presents the St. Teresa of Calcutta Award to one PreK-8 school and one high school in recognition for service projects completed during the academic year. Projects are based on the seven Corporal Works of Mercy: feed the hungry, give drink to the thirsty, clothe the naked, bury the dead, shelter the traveler, comfort the sick, and free the imprisoned. Congratulations to Resurrection Catholic School and Trinity Catholic High School, recipients of the 2019-2020 award!

Throughout the school year, our school communities collect numerous items — from food to clothing to personal items — that benefit those less fortunate locally and worldwide. For example (above), Edwin Disang, a native of Mmadinare, Botswana and now girl's soccer coach at Melbourne Central Catholic High School, spearheaded a uniform and equipment drive that benefitted six primary school teams from his hometown. Close to 80 soccer balls, cones, training vests and uniforms were sent. Below, students from Sacred Heart Catholic School show some of the food items they collected for the local food bank.

Academically Engaged and Enriched

Diocese of Orlando Catholic School students outperform their peers in public and other private schools.

Our students continually score above state and national scores on standardized testing.

Academic Accolades:

- Annunciation Catholic Academy’s VEX Robotics Team, Rock'em Sock'em Stars, qualified for the VEX World Championship and were slated to represent the State of Florida in the world championship in April; however, the competition was cancelled because of COVID.
- Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic School took first place honors in the Brevard County Odyssey of the Mind competition.
- A team of Holy Family Catholic School students qualified for state competition in the Science Olympiad, outperforming many STEM schools.
- A team of fourth graders from St. John Vianney Catholic School won “Best in Fair” for their design of a robot plow at the Curtis Rising Stars competition at the Florida Science Center in February 2020.
- St. Teresa Catholic School students won several awards at the Brevard County Science Fair in the following categories: Chemistry, Physics, Earth and Environmental, Mathematics and Computers, and Microbiology.
- The 7th grade team at St. Mary Magdalen Catholic School were regional winners in the Toshiba Exploravision competition.
- Three students from Holy Redeemer Catholic School were finalists in Osceola County’s Battle of the Books.

Diocese of Orlando Catholic School students have many opportunities to discover and develop their God-given talents through a wide variety of extracurricular and enrichment offerings. Each year, our schools add programs and activities based on student interests and needs. Here is a sampling of the NEW offerings at some of our schools for 2019-2020:

New Early Learning Center opens!

We were pleased to open another Early Learning Center to serve the needs of our families with young children. On Aug. 4, Lisa Wudtke cut the ribbon, officially inaugurating the Neumann Early Learning Academy in Lakeland, the diocese's 43rd Catholic School.

"I am happy to announce our first day of school for Neumann Early Learning Academy will be Aug. 14," Wudtke, director, said during the special event. "Soon the classrooms and hallways will be filled with the joys and laughter of children again. I cannot wait to foster their love for learning, but more importantly, doing so in an environment where they are having fun and nurturing their love for God."

Located on the same campus as St. John Neumann Parish, the center welcomed students ages three and four, for the 2019-2020 school year.

Father Jarek Szybel, pastor, was on hand to bless the building.

The school's mission is to develop the whole child, meeting his or her needs developmentally, spiritually, socially, emotionally, and academically in a Christ-centered, caring environment.

Resurrection Catholic School preschool in Lakeland was named
"Best of the Best" in Central Florida by the Lakeland Ledger.

Introducing Comet the Superhero!

There's a new celebrity on the Morning Star campus — Comet the Superhero. In the Spring, Morning Star students voted on who would be their new school mascot — Comet the Dog, Comet the Bird, or Comet the Superhero. In a runaway decision, Comet the Superhero prevailed. Now he can be seen frequently around campus, especially during special events, and the children love him.

COVID 19: A Change in Direction

Although socially distanced, we remained emotionally and spiritually connected.

On March 13, 2020, Henry Fortier, Diocese of Orlando Superintendent of Catholic Schools, announced that all Catholic schools in the diocese would go on an extended Spring Break as decisions about how to best educate our children in the midst of an emerging national pandemic, COVID-19, were made.

During this two-week period, we surveyed our families and loaned out computers to those in need. Our teachers revised lesson plans and teaching methods to accommodate the new way of learning via group virtual and one-on-one ZOOM instruction.

Then, Governor Ron DeSantis announced that virtual learning was to begin state wide on March 30 and all school buildings would be closed through April 15. And we were ready.

The re-opening date was moved back one more time before all schools throughout the state of Florida were closed by the governor for the remainder of the academic year.

Our communities made the best of a difficult situation as they adapted to the new way of learning. While there were some bumps in the road and a bit of anxiety along the way, all in all, our communities met the challenge, which enabled our students to remain on track in their grade levels, as they continued to learn and grow in their love of Jesus from home.

1,763

Number of computer devices loaned out.

0

Number of missed days of education from March 30 to the end of the year.

We were happy to continue to offer weekly Mass, May Crownings, enrichment classes, graduations, "dances," birthday celebrations, and other Catholic school traditions!

Highlights:

- ◆ Every day began with a reflection on faith and/or a student-led prayer.
- ◆ STEM assignments were intentionally assigned to involve the whole family.
- ◆ Teachers hosted "just to chat" ZOOM meetings to keep students connected.
- ◆ "Our teachers rocked the impossible! Proving once again that with God, all things are possible."
- ◆ Alumni athletes recorded video tutorials.
- ◆ Daily checklists kept students on task.

“One of the things that distinguishes us as Catholics schools, from the public schools, is that each day our teachers are doing sessions with the students together. The students are still seeing and communicating with each other in these virtual classrooms. Following our safe environment protocols for technology, our students are still connected.... There are live discussions and connectivity. We are ‘social’ distancing, not ‘emotional’ distancing. Emotionally, we need to stay more connected than ever. We are honoring social distancing through the closure of our buildings, but we are ramping up our emotional connectivity through lots of activities that parishes and San Pedro are putting out for our schools from a faith aspect, needed especially at a time like this.”

— Henry Fortier
Superintendent of Catholic Schools

Virtual tours became the “in” way to promote our schools. Today, prospective families can learn about any of our individual schools from their computer devices.

We told our teachers that we loved them and congratulated our graduates through yard signs.

We celebrated Mass at the dining room table.

Virtual Spirit Days made us smile.

Bringing your dog to class was now allowed.

Top Educators

39%

of our faculty are alumni of Catholic education.

38%

of our faculty hold advanced degrees.

100%

of our eligible faculty are state-certified and have completed the first level of Faith Formation catechist training, which entails more than 25 hours of course work and a spiritual retreat. Ongoing faith formation is an ongoing requirement of all educators.

We welcomed several new administrators:

- Dr. Alicia Abbey, principal of Morning Star Catholic School. Abbey was the assistant principal last year.
- Nicholas Regina, new president of Melbourne Central Catholic High School. He brings 30 years of Catholic school experience.
- Anthony Gutierrez, principal of Holy Redeemer Catholic School. Gutierrez served as assistant principal at St. James Cathedral School for four years.
- Lisa Wudtke, director of the newly opened Neumann Early Learning Academy in Lakeland.
- Janet Peddecord, principal of Our Saviour Catholic School. She began this position in January of 2019.
- Patricia Becker, former assistant principal of St. Anthony Catholic School in Lakeland, is now principal.
- Gloria Del Orbe, former principal of Holy Redeemer Catholic School, is now principal at Good Shepherd Catholic School.
- Jayme Hartmann, former principal of Good Shepherd Catholic School, is now principal of St. James Cathedral School.

Donna Witherspoon, principal at Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic School, was named recipient the 2019 Jenni Heneghan Distinguished Leadership of the Year Award, named in honor of the late Jennifer Heneghan. The award is presented to an educator who exemplifies her spirit, faith life and professionalism.

Three Diocese of Orlando Catholic Schools principals were among an elite group of educators tapped to participate in the prestigious 2019-2020 Dr. Brian Dasser Leadership Academy. Shelley Niswonger, principal at Sacred Heart Catholic School; Patricia Becker, principal at St. Anthony Catholic School; and David Parker, principal at Divine Mercy Catholic School, successfully completed the yearlong, job-embedded professional learning opportunity, sponsored by the Florida Department of Education in partnership with the University of Washington's Center for Educational Leadership and the Northeast Florida Educational Consortium. With a little more than 150 principals and supervisors invited to participate annually, the cohort represents the top educational leaders statewide.

79 Number of faculty members who are also alumni at the school at which they teach.

Aubrey Dunn, a first grade teacher at St. Margaret Mary Catholic School, was featured in The Florida Catholic for not only teaching at her alma mater, but for also being the second person in her family to teach at the school. Aubrey's great-grandmother, seen in a photo with a younger Miss Dunn, was St. Margaret Mary's first kindergarten teacher. "I love that I am carrying on the legacy of my great-grandmother," Aubrey said. Graduating from the school in 2007, Aubrey marked the third generation of Dunn alumni from St. Margaret Mary.

Every year, educators across the diocese gather for the Office of Catholic School's annual Educator Kick-Off event, normally held at Holy Family Catholic Church on the Monday before the start of school. The day features the celebration of Mass, a speaker, and the ever popular presentation of the Diocese of Orlando Distinguished Catholic School Educator Award, presented by Superintendent Henry Fortier, to each school's top teacher as selected by the school administration. This year, because of the pandemic, the event was held on individual school campuses, and our principals were honored to recognize their top teacher for 2019-2020.

Bishop Moore breaks ground on the Moore Center for Excellence

Bishop John Noonan blessed the ground for the new Moore Center for Excellence on the Bishop Moore Catholic High School campus on January 27 before Tom Doyle, president, and Scott Brogan, principal, joined him in breaking ground for the new building.

Located by the school's playing fields, the 28,000 square foot, two-story, state-of-the-art facility will feature a new training room, locker rooms, as well as classrooms and meeting rooms.

In addition, the Moore Center will have conference space, a catering kitchen, and a store where fans can stock up on Bishop Moore merchandise. There will also be a reception hall with balconies overlooking the sports fields and a tunnel so student athletes can run onto the field.

The project would not be possible without the many donors who came up with more than $3 million in funding. The Moore Center for Excellence is scheduled to be complete by late 2020.

All faculty were trained in “Youth Mental First Aid” by the end of the 2019-2020 academic year. Presented by counselors from Catholic Charities, the workshop taught our educators how to identify early warning signs of mental health issues in our students and to intervene early with assistance.

School administrators, key staff, and the Office of Catholic Schools staff received the training in 2018-2019.

The program is part of our continuing effort to improve safety on our campuses as well serve the needs of our children.

As part of its commitment to ensure the safety and well-being of all students in Catholic schools in the diocese, the Office of Catholic Schools introduced a social media seminar geared just for parents. “Unintended Consequences: The Hidden Impact of Growing Up Digitally” taught parents about the hidden impact of digital exposure on children’s physical and mental development.

Created and presented by Tami Murphy, a middle school teacher at Holy Family Catholic School, the seminar covered social media, brain development, grooming, human trafficking, safety measures, and “the good, the bad, and the ugly” of popular social media apps.

Throughout her teaching career, Murphy has advocated for children as an educator, instructional coach, and social media director. Seminar explores the hidden dangers of social media. She said her keen interest in social media responsibility, internet safety, and adolescent brain development surged when her children were in middle school.

“The social media world in which our children are growing up in is vastly different than the world many parents knew as children,” Murphy said. “It poses both possibilities and perils new and unique to this generation. We’re starting to see how these platforms affect learning and scientific studies are giving us more insight on the impact of social media on young, developing minds.”

St. Joseph Academy merges with Polk Catholic schools

On May 22, 2020, St. Joseph Academy in Lakeland announced that it will merge with nearby Catholic schools at the end of the 2019-2020 school year. Despite herculean efforts to save the school, even considering moving back to its original building on Lemon Street, it was simply not feasible.

“What we could not have imagined was the COVID-19 pandemic and its effect upon our world in such a short time,” said Father Tim LaBo, pastor of St. Joseph Catholic Church in Lakeland. “Our economy has changed dramatically. Many families have been out of work, businesses are struggling to stay open, and many of our parishioners have requested financial assistance. These factors have had a serious impact on re-enrollment numbers.”

The Office of Catholic Schools’ staff assisted families in answering questions and integrating them into St. Joseph Catholic School in Winter Haven and Resurrection Catholic School, St. Anthony Catholic School, and Neumann Early Learning Academy, all in Lakeland.

In the end, 90% of our SJA families remained in our Catholic school system.

We are pleased to announce that the FortifyFL app is LIVE and available to all of our school communities. Created in response to the Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School shooting in Parkland, FL 2018, the app allows any student, educator, parent, or member of the public to report school safety concerns directly to law enforcement and school administrators anonymously and easily. It is another measure we are taking to ensure the safety of our communities.

Emergency Preparedness Enhanced

Because we believe a uniform, planned, and practiced response to any incident is the foundation of a safe school, we continued to improve security on our campuses throughout the year.

With the focus on “Plan. Prepare. Practice,” we rolled out of the Standard Response Protocols (SRP), an action-based, flexible, and easy-to-learn plan of organized tactics for response to weather events, fires, accidents, intruders, and other threats to student safety, to all of our school communities.

The protocols laid out a uniform language in response to emergencies. Our verbiage was also shared with emergency response teams within our various cities and communities.

As part of our efforts, all schools received SRP posters in English and Spanish to display in every classroom and throughout their buildings.

Teachers also received a Standard Response Protocol Emergency flip chart, and parents were given a reference guide.

Topics covered in regional emergency trainings for teachers:

1. Foster engaging relationships in our school community.
2. Nurturing a supportive culture of mutual respect.
3. Building resiliency in our students so they become better responding to adverse situations.
4. Responding to emergencies using the common language of SRP.

Since the onset of the COVID-19 virus, the Office of Catholic Schools has and continues to work closely with the CDC, state, county, and local health departments to ensure that all health and safety, as well as all cleaning protocols are being implemented to ensure the well-being of our communities.

Family Night is a popular holiday tradition at San Pedro.

San Pedro Center responds to COVID crisis

In the wake of the rising anxiety of the international pandemic, people sought solace and spiritual guidance, and the staff at San Pedro responded by creating three new virtual programs that addressed the spiritual and emotional needs of the faithful. The programs included weekly events, including Bible studies and reflections; various self-paced retreats; and the well-attended 4-part series, “A Priest, a Theologian, and a Therapist Walk into a ZOOM Meeting.” Many of these offerings are still available on the San Pedro website: www.sanpedrocenter.org/at-home-retreats.

Forty-one families in the remote community of La Cueva in our sister diocese, San Juan de la Maguana, Dominican Republic, will soon have a safer place to call home, thanks to a generous grant from the Ruckstuhl Foundation (for 40 of the homes) and one anonymous donor (one home). Most families live in ramshackle homes that are vulnerable against the tropical storms that rip across the country. Once the houses are complete, these families will have a sturdy block house to call home. All future homeowners are assisting in the construction of their homes.

As of late 2020, the exterior block walls have been erected in the first 12 houses. When these 12 houses have exterior walls, the foundation of three more houses will be worked on, and so on. The roofs will be built once a group of construction missionaries gets the opportunity to travel to the Dominican Republic to work with the locals. The pandemic has hampered mission efforts since Spring.

The Mission Office is trying to help these families get a small four-burner gas stove or table top stove so they are able to cook inside their homes. They are also trying to get solar panels for these new houses.

Additional Ongoing Projects:

Multi Community Water project: Locals started digging the trenches in early 2020. The water comes from a spring found on a mountain and will provide running water to homes in approximately nine villages.

An Japanese Embassy grant is funding a Multi-Purpose Pavilion for sports, assemblies, and recreational activities. This project started in early 2020 but had to stop because of a major landslide caused by excessive rain. The project is slated to be finished by June 2021.

When Luis Jose Aybar De Los Santos, pictured left, learned that he had been selected to go to the United States to earn his high school diploma as part of the Mission Office's International Student Program, he vowed that he would return to his homeland to use his education to benefit the people of the mountain. Luis made good on his promise this past year. After graduating from Bishop Moore Catholic in 2015, and UCF in 2019 with a bachelor's degree in Civil Engineering, he returned home and is now overseeing the Ruckstuhl Foundation housing construction project (above) with the remote supervision of volunteer Emmett Sapp.

Amount of tuition assistance distributed from these three diocesan-wide tuition assistance endowment funds.

AIC Tuition Assistance Endowment Fund
Adelaida Valdes Endowment Fund
Fr. Frank Zammit Endowment Fund

$340,684

Endowment earnings distributed from the additional 30 school-specific endowment funds held at The Catholic Foundation. In addition to scholarships and tuition assistance, these funds also provide dollars for programs and operations.

Endowment Funds provide an ongoing source of revenue for our Catholic Schools. Thanks to the generosity of donors through The Catholic Foundation of Central Florida, families throughout the diocese are able to realize the dream of Catholic education for their children.

Catholic Education is affordable!

Many of our families are able to send their children to Catholic schools thanks to the following support:

$16,778,561

in Catholic tuition assistance and other tuition and fee allowances offered by local parishes and schools

$2,207,450

in VPK allowances (serving 954 students)

$26,097,273

in Florida tax credit scholarships (serving 3,906 students) in Florida Empowerment scholarships (serving 488 students)

$2,937,089

$5,296,774

in McKay scholarships (serving 840 students)

$2,171,084

in Gardiner scholarships (serving 273 students)
